What the World Needs Now...

Since our last Bulletin went out, so much has happened, in particular the Pittsburgh massacre and, closer to home, my mom’s passing. The fact that both events were played out simultaneously made for a most painful week, yet one that helped us all to reconnect on the deepest, most human level. The hundreds of you who visited me during the shiva and hundreds who attended our most meaningful Shabbat services the following weekend, and those who have been supporting our morning minyan in unprecedented numbers – all have helped to raise us to an even higher level of communal purpose.

In the midst of all this, my book Mensch•Marks is gaining increasing buzz, even though its April 2 publication date is still four months off. I invite you to check out the book’s new website, https://www.menschmarks.com, where you can read the introduction and table of contents and check out early endorsements, like this one by Daniel Gordis, author of ISRAEL: A Concise History of a Nation Reborn: “In this age, when leadership and morality often seem to have nothing in common, Rabbi Joshua Hammerman offers us a window into a deeply-lived life. From a genuine mensch, we learn what it is to live a life measured by moral growth and devotion to people and causes beyond us. Reading Mensch•Marks is bound to leave us all determined to live better lives and be better people.”

Beginning January 10 and running for seven consecutive weeks, Mensch•Marks: The Class will offer sneak previews of key chapters, as we explore important Jewish values. The class will meet from noon to 1:00pm each week.

And please mark your calendars for Thursday, March 28 at 7:30pm. Several days before the official publication date, we will launch the book right here at TBE. I am grateful to the JCC and UJF for partnering with the Temple so that this can truly be a community celebration. It so happens that nearly 200 of you have pre-purchased the book, as part of last June’s Cantor’s Concert and celebration of my 30th. Over the next several weeks our office will send out forms so I can sign each book to your specifications. (If you want me to sign “Best wishes, Gal Gadot,” hey, I’m happy to do that). The books will be distributed on the 28th and will also be available for purchase.

I’m looking forward to hearing your reactions and to sharing this journey together, as we’ve shared so many over the years.

Rabbi Joshua Hammerman

Security Update

In the weeks since the murders at Tree of Life Synagogue in Pittsburgh, we have taken several steps to augment Temple Beth El’s security systems and protocols. We have held meetings and conference calls with security experts from the Stamford Police Department, ADL, our own congregation, and elsewhere to identify best practices to implement. I want to update the congregation on actions we are taking, with the understanding that our security experts have encouraged us not to be too candid in disclosing all our security systems and protocols.

As most of you know, we have significantly expanded the presence of armed security guards on the premises. We are also now locking all entry doors to the building whenever armed security is not present, which means that visitors need to be buzzed in. We understand that this can create some inconvenience for visitors and staff. We are researching technology upgrades that will help to mitigate those moments of inconvenience.

We have scheduled “active shooter training” for teachers, staff and Board members with the Stamford Police Department’s Assistant Chief in charge of security and counter-intelligence. Teachers have also received training on lockdown procedures, and room doors now have special “intruder prevention locks.”

We are planning upgrades to the property’s external lighting, based on recommendations from our security experts. We have already updated our security-related signage, which by itself can provide some deterrence. Fortunately our windows – including the ones in the sanctuary – already provide considerable security-related protection. We are also planning other security-related hardware and software upgrades, but for reasons stated earlier I won’t get into specifics.

As you can imagine, these security-related actions are straining our budget. For example we will spend about $20,000 more than planned on armed security this fiscal year, and that doesn’t include the cost of upgrades to hardware, software, lighting and so forth. Nevertheless in a post-Pittsburgh world, these expenditures are necessary. As you plan your philanthropy for the new secular year, I ask you to consider the importance of maintaining Temple Beth El as a safe environment for prayer, education, and community.

Thanks, as always, for the privilege of serving you as TBE President.

SEMINAR on ESTHER
with VANESSA AVERY
March 7 at 7:30pm

The book of Esther is an undeniably rich source for spiritual searching — searching out ways to survive in the world, searching for God, searching for courage, searching how to find success when it seems so unlikely. But the book and its holy day of Purim have raised many objections throughout the years. There are indeed many grey areas within the book of Esther that have put its inclusion in the biblical canon into question. Using the popular theory of Rene Girard, this seminar will explore how the book reveals the stages of scapegoating violence, and how one might navigate or counteract this unloving system.

Dr. Avery has 20 years of experience in higher education and organizational consulting. With a PhD from the University of Exeter, Masters degrees from Yale Divinity School and King’s College London, and a Bachelor’s degree from McGill University, she has taught and consulted for universities, healthcare institutions, and corporations around the nation. Her work, no matter the context, is to open minds, reduce bias, and to create inclusive, diverse, dialogical, and thriving cultures. Vanessa is currently Lecturer in Interfaith Engagement at Yale Divinity School and the Director of the Sharing Sacred Spaces Initiative for Sacred Space International. Vanessa’s book, The End of Violence, is due out next year from Michigan State University Press.

TORAH FUND
Sisterhood is committed to supporting Torah Fund sponsored by Women’s League for Conservative Judaism. Proceeds are raised by selling lovely cards and pins to support the Jewish Theological Seminary and other seminaries in LA, Jerusalem and Buenos Aires. The Torah Fund Campaign has raised more than $90 million since its inception.

Card messages include Mazel Tov, New Baby, Get Well, Sympathy, Friendship and Thank you. Cost is $3 per card or $20 for seven cards. A new pin is created each year for a donation of $180. Purchase from the TBE gift shop or directly from Suzanne Stone, suzanneshorn@yahoo.com, 203-866-2273.
I hope you all enjoyed the lively Rock Shabbat and delicious Oneg on November 16th that was sponsored by Sisterhood from your Sisterhood dues and donations.

Todah Rabah and thank you for Tikkun Olam (repairing the world) with your generous donations to help women in in shelters live with dignity, as well as your astounding Clothing Drive donations which will be distributed to people in need around the world and that raised $1,100 for Sisterhood programming.

Thank you for your positive feedback on the Mark Albertson talk on Helen Keller’s social activism and Sisterhood annual brunch with speaker Tina Carlson from the Connecticut Women’s Hall of Fame. At the brunch, I shared remarks from Sisterhood members on what Sisterhood means to them. Some of you asked me to provide them so here are some excerpts:

“...When we joined TBE in 1973, we knew no one. I remember going to my first Sisterhood meeting where I met Joan Weisman and Norma Mann and many others who I would get to know and volunteer with. Over the years I have worked with many TBE Sisterhood women who I now call my friends. I’ve also learned a lot about Judaism from our many programs.”
- Rosalea Fisher

“Sisterhood is warmth, comfort, friendship, and humor. I came to TBE Sisterhood while deeply grieving the loss of my mother, and found so many wonderful, inspiring, and loving women who have become in loco maternis.”
- Sarah Darer Littman

“I knew I had ‘made it’ when I strutted my stuff down the runway at the TBE Sisterhood Fashion Show! But the best part was chattering with the other “sisters” while we waited to go down the Lord & Taylor runway. It was a night I met and bonded with some women who are now close friends.”
- Lisa Grove-Raider

“My very favorite Sisterhood event is Sisterhood Shabbat held in the spring. Women celebrating the competency of themselves and their sisters in leading a full and meaningful Shabbat service - what could be more soul satisfying? My favorite service is the Sisterhood is the Gift Shop. It’s not that I’m a frequent shopper there but, when I do go, the item I want is always available to buy or order. I was able to order kippot, customized with the simcha inscription sewn into each kippah. I’ve purchased mazuzot and other house gifts in the Sisterhood Gift Shop, and I’ve never been disappointed. The volunteers in the shop are always helpful and smiling. Thank you for being our local Judaica source.”
- Caroline Temlock Teichman

“YOU ARE MY FAMILY!!! I have been active in our remarkable SISTERHOOD for years, AND I am soooooddooow smart of the funds we raise which we contribute to the CONTINUING health and strength of our TBE family!! There are many Sisterhood events which are meaningful. The one event I TRY ALWAYS, ALWAYS to attend is our SISTERHOOD SHABBAT. I am ALWAYS honored to participate in leading the Shabbat Service, AND I am ALWAYS filled with pride AND with joy as I watch sooooo many women chant the service, read Torah, chant the Haftorah, present the D’var Torah AND share how remarkable and wondrous it is that WE are capable, knowledgeable AND we count!! Hugz & MORE hugz and even MORE LOVE to alllll my extraordinary sisters!!! May we continue in strength!!!”
- Judy Aronin

SPEAKING OF SISTERHOOD SHABBAT, we now have a date which is Saturday, June 8. The Sisterhood Shabbat service is led entirely by women and is followed by a luncheon. Mark your calendars! I would greatly appreciate it if you would let me know whether you would like to participate in the service (Torah reading, Hebrew or English reading). More on this to come.

Other upcoming events we are planning for the rest of the year (see future emails for details) include:

• NEW - Thursday, January 24, Wedding Belles show at Curtain Call – bring your own food and drink and have a fun evening with friends.

• Sunday, April 28 – Lauren Redniss, guest speaker, noted artist and author of three books of visual non-fiction

• Sponsorship of Mediterranean Shabbat musical service in the spring.

• Mark Albertson to speak on Clementine Churchill, wife of Sir Winston.

As we begin another calendar year and settle into our 2019 routines, I continue to be grateful to the many wonderful TBE and Sisterhood members.
